

Eparchial Communications Office

Thanks To Your Gifts To The Annual Eparchial Appeal, Technology Is Being Used To Connect, Nurture, And Inform The Faithful!

The Eparchial Communications Office works to hold our Ukrainian Catholic community together by keeping us informed and connected. There is a mountain of information and numerous services that are provided by our Eparchial organizations, which the Communications Office promotes, distributes and publicizes in various ways. Areas of focus for the Eparchial Communications Office this year include working to replace the now-discontinued traditional Eparchial News publication with a new format, and to expand and enhance the delivery of live-stream video coverage of the Divine Liturgy and other church services.

“Donations to this cause are very much necessary and appreciated, and will bear fruit.” - Bohdan Popowych

The Church must use new methods of communication to reach people where they are, says Bohdan Popowych, Eparchial Pastoral Council Chair.

“Most people today get their information from social media, which from my experience, is quite often devoid of Catholic values, of Gospel values. As our mission and our Church’s mission is to go and preach the Good News to all nations, we need to utilize the technology to reach people where they are... and at least present those Gospel values so they are part of the social discourse.”

The website at www.skeparchy.org contains a wealth of information that helps to keep the faithful across the Eparchy informed and connected, Popowych said.

Last summer, when Fr. Warren Dungen was ordained a priest for the Eparchy of Saskatoon, Popowych was one of those who tuned in to the live-stream video feed to share in the joyful event.

“Unfortunately I was unable to attend – it would have taken me five hours of travel time to get there – but I was able to at least participate in that joyous event on my computer,” he said.

“I felt part of community connected to that very special event and I was grateful for that opportunity.”

Your support for the Eparchial Annual Appeal will ensure that the work of the Communications Office can continue in our Eparchy. Please be generous!
