

The background of the entire poster features a night scene in a field. In the foreground, two men, presumably the Johner Brothers, are smiling and standing close together. They are wearing dark green jackets. Behind them, three younger men, presumably the Johner Boys, are standing in a field of tall grass. A large, full moon is visible in the sky, and there are many small, glowing light spots scattered throughout the scene, giving it a magical or festive feel.
